

Press release

HAWE Hydraulik strengthens its position in Switzerland

In Zug (Switzerland) HYDRATEC Hydraulik+Antriebs-Technik AG and HAWE Hydraulik AG have merged to form one new company HAWE–HYDRATEC AG, which started business on September 20th, 2005. This new company is part of the HAWE group and will move to its new premises in Cham soon.

It is the aim to combine the product and service range of HYDRATEC and HAWE Hydraulik to form a comprehensive portfolio in Switzerland where the increased ability to generate systems is most advantageous for the clients. The existing business relations with suppliers and clients will be cultivated and extended with the HAWE product range to be added. This new company will be led by Carlo Fornasier und Kurt Hess as managing directors. It can rely on a staff of 15 employees with an extensive experience in motion and drive technology. Many customized and innovative solutions in the field of industrial and mobile applications of both former individual companies represent a competent foundation for future business
