New products of HAWE Hydraulik create high interest in Hannover 2005

With a new booth and several new products HAWE Hydraulik began the Hannover fair in 2005. One of the leading points of interest was the Motion Drive & Automation and the company was located right in the middle of it. Many people used this chance to learn more about HAWE Hydraulik as leading brand of hydraulic systems with a wide range of products for industrial and mobile applications. More than 30% of these contacts came from abroad, mostly from Asia and the EC. We were also happy to welcome the Bavarian Secretary of Commerce Dr. Otto Wiesheu, university professors and many technical editors at our new booth. With its simple and calming design it invited to have a break within these hectic days. This positive atmosphere and the various new compact power packs displayed were starting point for many technical discussions which were interesting and often very detailed. HAWE Hydraulik tried a new approach by displaying selected products from our clients, where components from HAWE with their system ability contribute a lot to their success in various fields of application. Additionally there was an innovative logging truck on display in the "Mobil Application Park" Hall 25. This truck demonstrated the advantages of the compact design of our components as well as HAWE's ability to supply customized electronic controls. This year's Hannover Fair was very successful for HAWE Hydraulik and we will participate in 2007 again..
